

2nd July 2021

Dear Parents,

A pupil in 7 Murdoch 3 has tested positive for coronavirus. They were last in school on Tuesday this week. As a result, the class will need to isolate at home until Monday 12th July.

I recognise that this is hugely disruptive to family life, especially given that it is likely that the government will soon change the guidance around this matter.

However, at the current time to school has no option other than to take this course of action which is consistent with the actions we have taken in relation to similar cases in recent months.

Pupils will be provided with a remote learning curriculum next week, similar to that which they experienced during the period of school closures earlier in the year. This will begin at 9am on Monday morning and it will begin with a live tutor time session explaining plans for the week.

Throughout the week, pupils will have live lessons every day with information about how to take part in them shared in the tutor time session on Monday morning.

Pupils and parents will receive an invitation to this introductory session via an email later today.

We then look forward to welcoming pupils back for the final week of term on Monday 12th July.

If you have any further questions or concerns, please do get in touch as soon as possible.

Kind regards
